Dear Lia & Sam

Thank you for helping to reduce the impact of prostate cancer in South Australia by supporting the ProstateSA Boys will be Boys launch party.

As a community based organisation, ProstateSA does not receive any direct government funding. It is only through generous community support such as yours that we can work towards achieving our vision 'to beat prostate cancer in South Australia'.

In South Australia, 25 men are diagnosed with prostate cancer every week and in 2004, 218 died from the disease which makes such assistance vital to the ongoing work of ProstateSA and is greatly appreciated.

The night was a success and Boys will be Boys has already raised in excess of $15,000 with numerous other host parties to be held throughout September. Funds raised through the event will go towards prostate cancer research and support programs in South Australia which work towards creating a prostate cancer-free future.

ProstateSA will continue our campaign of raising awareness throughout the community and fundraising with 'blue ribbon' events and look forward to your continued support in the future.

Regards

Mr Brent Frewen
ProstateSA Events Manager

*Lia + Sam,
Thanks sincerely for your tremendous work ethic
in helping to pull the right together.
Cheers Brent*

Dear Mr Cocks,

Thanks for supporting ProstateSA at the recent blue tie cocktail party.

We believe the event was a tremendous success and an opportunity to show our appreciation and thanks for the significant support received from individuals and the corporate sector alike, on our path towards achieving the vision 'of beating prostate cancer in South Australia'.

As both Mr Ray Blight and Mr Michael Brock stated on the night, ProstateSA will be continuing with 'blue ribbon' events in 2008 including a not to be missed 'blue ribbon' gala event on Saturday 30th August. Michael Brock also threw down the gauntlet to everyone in attendance to organise a table of ten for the event.

We look forward to progressing with our campaign of raising awareness throughout the community and fundraising with other 'blue ribbon' events.

I have enclosed a ProstateSA brochure for your perusal.

If you are able to support any of our projects and activities, please contact Mr Brent Frewen, Events Manager on 8291 4110. As you would appreciate each and every valuable contribution is gratefully received.

Once again, it is extremely gratifying to have your support. I look forward to your continued support in 2008, and wish you a safe and happy festive season.

Kind regards

Associate Professor Brenda Wilson
